

Brian O'Donnell and Jeffrey Beyer Author TCCWNA Article on Law360

Law360 published an article authored by Brian O'Donnell and Jeffrey Beyer on a new development in the surge of class action lawsuits alleging violations of the New Jersey Truth-in-Consumer Contract, Warranty, and Notice Act (TCCWNA). The article addresses the New Jersey Supreme Court's decision to accept the Wenger and Spade cases, which should provide much needed clarity as to two critical elements under the statute – what is the meaning of “aggrieved consumer” and what is the meaning of a “clearly established legal right of a consumer.” See the article at Law360.
