

NJLJ Names Securities Litigation Group “Litigation Department of the Year for Specialty Practice Area”

The Firm proudly congratulates our Securities Litigation, Arbitration, Regulation and Investigations practice group, which was named “Litigation Department of the Year for a Specialty Practice Area” by the New Jersey Law Journal as part of its 2020 Professional Excellence Awards. Only four law firms were singled out for standout specialty practice areas, all in separate areas of the law.

Our group, led by partner A.J. Borrelli, handles securities litigation, securities-related commercial litigation, securities arbitration, securities-related employment matters, securities-related investigations conducted by federal and state regulators, and securities-related internal investigations. The team's impressive victories in high-profile cases, combined with unwavering client service and a deep understanding of our clients' businesses, earned this special distinction.
